Columbus awarded $1 million housing grant

Rebecca M. Waggoner

The Columbus City Council held its monthly meeting on June 1, 2015, at the Columbus City Hall. All council members were present, along with Columbus Mayor Kay Ferguson; City Attorney Mary Potter; Community Development Block (CDBG) Grant Consultant Martha Campbell; Jennifer Walker, Executive Director of the Purchase Area Development District (PADD), as well as numerous residents from the community.

After council approval of the May meeting minutes, Mayor Kay Ferguson discussed the city's quest to find an exterminator for the Columbus City Hall. The City Hall building is suffering damage from termites and is seeking immediate attention to this issue. Missy Griffith, City Clerk, received several quotes from local pest control companies for an initial extermination fee and yearly maintenance of the building. After careful review of the quotes, the council unanimously voted to use Servall Termite & Pest Control, for this service. Servall's quote was significantly cheaper than the other three contenders, coming in at a $400 extermination fee, and $75 for yearly maintenance.

Right after the May Finances were approved, the council began to discuss new business. Mayor Kay Ferguson gave a reading of the City of Columbus Budget Ordinance for FY 2015-16. The budget consisted of the General, Water, Road and Community Development Block Grant funds. Since this was the first reading of the budget, there was no voting required during this meeting, but the council did set a date for a "Special-Called" council meeting, at which there will be a second reading and approval of the FY 2015-16 Budget Ordinance.

RELAY FOR LIFE HELD

Hickman County Relay for Life held their annual Relay event Friday night, June 5, on the court square in Clinton. The event, previously held at the walking track behind Hickman County High School, was more successful this year with the new venue and increased visibility. Friday night's event raised almost $7,500 for cancer research, according to Hickman County Relay for Life Chairwoman Suzette Reeves, and almost $20,000 was raised by Hickman County Relay for Life this year. This money goes primarily to fund cancer research, but some stays within the region to help local cancer patients cope with the financial burden of a cancer diagnosis and treatment.

Daniel Richardson and Charlotte Smith

Tom Curtsinger, of Graves County, has developed a hobby of defying expectations. Several years ago, Curtsinger and a friend noticed that wineries were growing in popularity. They visited one to see what the attraction was, and were hooked.

"Some people want to go to a bar filled with smoke and loud music and a good fight now and then," Curtsinger told Clinton Rotarians when he visited on Wednesday, May 27, as a guest of Bruce Kimbell. "Then there are those that just want to relax and enjoy each other's company in a quiet setting, where you can hear each other talk.' Curtsinger said wineries fill this void by providing a quiet, somewhat secluded location where visitors can come and try different types of wines, listen to quiet music, and get away from some of the noise that fills their Having an agricultural background, Curtsinger fell naturally in step with growing grapes when he started Fancy Farm Vineyard and Winery, even defying the "experts" advice and expectations.

"I've been growing the grapes that the experts say you can't grow in western Kentucky for the past eight years," he said. With six acres of grapes growing on his farm, Curtsinger grows Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Chardonnay, Malbec, Riesling, and other varieties of grapes.

Wineries are not new to this area, Purple Toad Winery is located on the edge of Paducah, where they invite you to come see where Kentucky grapes are turned into award winning wines, from sweet to dry and from Chardonnay to Cabernet Sauvignon.

In 1980 Paul Laine and Attorney Joe Johnson opened up Laine Vineyards and Winery, Inc. It was located on Middle Road by Palestine Church. Paul Laine passed away in 2004.

Curtsinger said that in a good year, the vineyard yields five tons of grapes per acre, enough to make

BUNCO BABES DONATE $750 TO MISSION HOUSE

The Bunco Babes consists of sixteen women who play Bunco on the first Wednesday of each month. The group was formed in 1998 and still has several of its original members. In the past the girls have traveled to places such as Las Vegas and Cozumel, but this month they met at the home of Sherry Roberts with a much more serious intent. Each member brought one or two items (new or used) to auction off to each other with the sole purpose of making a contribution to a good cause in our community. When the night was over, they were all pleased to discover they had collected $750 for the Hickman County Mission House!

Gov. Beshear visits area, applauds economic development

The council's special-called meeting will be Monday, June 8th at 5 p.m., at the Columbus City Hall.

Martha Campbell, CDGB Consultant, further discussed the Community Development Block Grant for the City of Columbus. According to awarded $1,000,000.00 for the rebuilding, or rehabilitation of homes within the city limits. Campbell anticipates the entire project will be complete in 18-24 months, providing much needed improvements to 13 homes. Campbell also answered questions about the homeowner selection process and how funds will be determined per home. Campbell expressed how lucky she feels the City of Columbus is, to have been chosen to receive $1,000,000 in the housing grant. "I think we were very fortunate to have received these funds," said Campbell, also mentioning the state of Kentucky received only three million dollars for housing, one of which is now allocated for the city of Columbus.

The city of Columbus was required to implement numerous resolutions/plans, as part of the Community Development Block Grant. The city passed the following:

- Resolution of Acceptance of Funds
- An Authorizing Resolution, authorizing Mayor Ferguson to execute contractual agreements on behalf of the City of Columbus
 - A Procurement Policy
- A Grievance Procedure on discrimination towards any handicapped individuals within the city of Columbus
- Drug-Free Workplace Act/ Drug and Alcohol Policy • Affirmative Action Plan
- Residential Displacement Plan, and

Prohibited Housing Discrimination Plan/Equal Housing Opportunity.

In other business, Mayor Ferguson asked local residents if they had any questions or concerns. Local residents discussed the upkeep of local properties and the violation of Columbus city ordinance, concerning the property's lawn/ tree maintenance. The council received word that progress was underway to increase the properties' curb-appeal, on two of the properties in violation.

Columbus Fire Chief James Bruer, asked the council if it would be interested in corenting a large dumpster for the residents of Columbus Campbell, the city has been to use to help clean-up city properties. The chief said the city of Arlington had provided this service for its residents before, and it was a great success. Bruer stated he would present this idea to his Board of Directors, as well. Upon approval from his board, he will return to the city council, for further discussion.

> Jennifer Walker, Executive Director of the Purchase Area Development District (PADD), was present at the meeting as well. Jennifer greeted everyone on behalf of the PADD, and said she is very interested in the city of Columbus, and would be willing to help the city in any way she can.

> At the close of the meeting, resident Neal Henley asked if there had been any more discussion about building a youth park on the property where the current basketball court sits, in front of the Columbus Fire Department. The suggestion for this project was to see if the county would build the park and provide future maintenance for the property. This endeavor would require the city to deed the property to Hickman County, an idea not favored by the Mayor, or city council members. Several members said they had talked with other local residents, and most did not like the idea. Council member Kim Ferguson was not completely sold on the idea, since the state park was just down the street. Henley went on to explain the need for at least a new ball court and pavilion and mentioned the volume of youth who are on his property, daily, and how he felt the park would benefit the youth. Mayor Ferguson said she had rather keep the property in the city's possession, and if it were ever given away, she would rather see it go to the Columbus Fire Department. No further discussion or action was taken on this subject.

A new, old book

isa and I are reading a book together which has a few chapters outlining the plight of a newspaper owner and the situations he faces in day-to-day operations. Being newspaper owners, these chapters are especially interesting.

One situation is whether or not to report on a prizefight that a lot of people are interested in. This is a seven-day-daily newspaper and if it does not report on the prizefight then a lot of people would be upset.

Well, the newspaper did not report on it and he received a lot of complaints. Some cancelled their subscriptions.

Another issue he faced was whether to continue printing a Sunday edition or not. The Sunday edition was one of the most profitable but he was perplexed about what to do. Most Sunday editions are finished on Saturday nights in time to be printed and delivered about the time the roosters crow.

The book "In His Steps" asks "What Would Jesus Do?" In other words, would Jesus publish a newspaper on a Sunday? Wrestling with this question presented a dilemma to this owner. Changes brought on much dissent among long-time employees. After all, they worried that changes like these may bankrupt the newspaper and their jobs would fly out the window.

There are a lot of scenarios that have presented themselves to us over the past three decades plus that we have owned newspapers. We do not have deep pockets, just a sincere desire to publish a clean, timely newspaper, one that follows the Rotary Four-Way Test (is it the truth, is it fair to all concerned, will it build good will and better friendships and will it be beneficial to all concerned?).

Some issues are "no-brainers" like (these that are true scenarios) whether or not to carry advertising for strip clubs, but others are a bit grey, like whether or not to publish property transfers, and if we do, do we list the sale price?

Should a community newspaper publish DUI offenses? Or what about only the third or fourth offenses? We get calls from people who say their grandparents will have heart attacks if they read this in the newspaper, or they stand to lose their jobs if the employer finds out.

We struggle with whether or not we should publish liquor advertisements or cigarette advertisements. And if so, should we do so but just not display pictures and pricing? Some places skirt the issue by advertising "cold beverages". One establishment removed the word Saloon from part of its name at our request and we continued to carry advertising for the menu items.

The book, written in the 1800s, is interesting and goes down the list of other businesses and the decisions they must make.

We are not halfway through the book yet and already have begun to rethink a few things.

As we do so, we welcome reader input on our news and advertising content. What say ye?

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to bring to attention the Board of Directors Hickman-Fulton RECC (HFRECC) for keeping the membership so informed. Especially about how the IRS 990 forms that have to be filed by a non-profit organization such as HFRECC, WKRECC, and GEMC.

These IRS Forms shows salaries for:

HFRECC: CEO Grissom -2,700 members - $146,355

WKRECC: CEO Smart -38,000 members - $186,578 GEMC: CEO Rodamaker -35,000 members - $254,508

YES, THAT'S RIGHT, I'M POSITIVE! 2,700 members

Mr. Grissom being highly thought of while little about the owner/members that pay these salaries.

I know this will make some mad and sicken others, hopefully to the point of removing ALL the Directors of HFRECC. It only takes 300 members to sign a petition and ALL can be removed and replaced in one special called meeting.

Brent Dublin gave the Sunday School devotion from Job 2: 1 - 7 And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil? and still he holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movest me against him, to destroy him without cause. And Satan answered the Lord, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life. But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse thee to thy face. And the Lord said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand; but save his life. So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown.

The tree appeared to be alive. Actually, it is. It has plant life. But that mysterious movement, sometimes gentle, sometimes strong..it is the wind, the power of God. He who "gathers the wind in his fists" (Prov. 30:4). Then he directs it whithersoever

So with the believer. He moves and has his being as the Spirit of God (pneuma, Greek for both wind and spirit) moves him. The scriptures came by "holly men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Spirit' (2Pet.1: 21). Then, "What. don't you know that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit it that is in you, which you have of God" (that is, the believer in Jesus) 1Cor. 6:19.

Isn't it strange we go for long periods of time, perhaps days, and never realize, are aware, consult or consider the presence of the Spirit in us? We ignore his conviction and cleansing, his power and purpose for our

I preach a sermon, "The Most Mistreated Person In Church." You guessed rightly, it's the Holy Spirit. Would anyone argue that might also be true of every individual Christian? Mistreating the Holy Spirit. More pointed; what of your life? Mine?

Beelerton Buzz By Tammy Byrd

Greetings to all: Sunny days are most welcomed following the rainy ones we had. The farmers are busy with planting and soon to be wheat harvest. Happy birthday wishes to a friend and classmate of mine, Melba Ingram Turner on the 8, James Turner, Charlene Sugg, and Tanner Hicks(my nephew happy 15) on the 10, Andrew Ferguson on the 11, Kim East on the 12, and to James N Vaughn on the 13. Happy anniversary wishes to Ronnie and Maggie Brockwell and to Joe and Denise McWhorter on the 9th. Mark your calendar for Sunday, June 14, homecoming services at New Bethel Church with Bro. Doug Cruse preaching and the Joylanders singing in the afternoon. Everyone is invited to attend. VBS at New Bethel Church will be from June 22 through 26, from 6 to 8 p.m. The theme is Journey off the Map for ages preschool through 6th grade. A fun time of learning about Jesus through Bible stories, songs, missions, crafts, and food. All children are invited to attend. With Father's Day approaching I thought this poem quite true.

At 4 years: My dad can do anything, at 7 years: My dad knows a lot, a whole lot. At 12 years: Naturally my dad doesn't know that either. At 14: Hopelessly old fashioned. At 21: That man is out of date. What did you think? At 25: He knows a little bit about it, but not much. At 30: Maybe we ought to find out what Dad thinks. At 35: Let's get Dad's assessment before we do anything. At 50: I wonder what Dad would have thought about that. He was pretty smart. At 60: My Dad knew absolutely everything! At 65: I'd give anything if Dad were here so I could talk with him. I really miss that man.

Prayer concerns include are nation and leaders, our sister churches and pastors, those traveling on vacation, the sick, the nursing home residents, our youth, and our military. I hope everyone has a blessed week.

New Hope Missionary Baptist Church News By Wanda Powell

On May 31 New Hope Baptist Church celebrated Youth Day. Noah Ferguson read from Proverbs 14:26, "In the fear of the Lord is strong confidence. And his children shall have a place of refuge. Andrew Ferguson led the congregation in singing "There is Power in the Blood," "Oh How I Love Jesus" and "What a Day That Will be." Paul Ferguson played the song "Nothing But the Blood of Jesus" on his violin. Everyone enjoyed his violin playing. Pastor Randy McClure preached from Mark 4:24, And he said unto them, "Take heed what ye hear; with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you; and unto you that hear shall more be given."

Jesus is the light of the world. We are to spread the word of God. We are to be witnesses about Jesus to the world.

Pray for those who are in nursing homes, Teresa Mary Burpo Ferguson, and Ermie Ferguson. Pray Mildred for Harrison, Lomax, Cheyenne Sissy, Shelley Ferguson and Chris Buckingham, also for our missionaries as they spread the gospel of Jesus Christ. May God Bless Everyone.

Social Security Matters

by AMAC's Certified Social Security Advisor C.J. Miles

Association of Mature American Citizens

QUESTION: I'm in my late 20s and it has been more difficult than I expected to get my career going after college. I finally got a good job and it offers a 401k matching program. Even though it sounds good, I just don't think I can afford losing that extra money out of my paycheck. When I told my parents this, they freaked. They said Social Security will probably not be solvent when I retire and I need to start saving for retirement now, even though I'm so young. What do they mean by Social Security won't be solvent? I pay a lot of taxes for it out of my paycheck.

ANSWER: In general, "insolvent" in any business means that liabilities exceed assets. In terms of Social Security, the taxes you are paying out of your check are going towards the OASI (oldage) and DI (disability) Trust Funds (the combined trust funds are called OASDI). The concern your parents are speaking of is a concern many people have. If there are not enough taxes being collected to pay current benefits, Social Security is considered "insolvent." Recently, population trends have caused the ratio of workers to retired people to get smaller, which is depleting any reserves in the trust fund (the reserves are the extra funds collected beyond benefits being paid).

Trust fund insolvency has been an even bigger discussion lately because the DI trust fund is expected to become insolvent in 2016. At that time, only 81% of someone's disability benefit can be paid in order to pay everyone on disability on time. So what does this mean for you, a 20-something thinking about a 401k? The OASI trust fund is also in trouble, just a little later than the DI trust fund – it is expected to be insolvent in the year 2033 and at that time, 77% of benefits can be paid. Imagine working and paying those taxes and then when you retire, you only get 77% of what you expected. That is the situation as it stands now. If you are in your late 20s, let's say you will retire in 40 years, which is the year 2055. Even though the actuaries at Social Security do not provide a number for that specific year, they expect that 77% to continue declining to 72% in 2088 and you are somewhere in the middle of that. In addition, some advocate transferring funds from the OASI trust fund to the DI trust fund in order to pay disability benefits in full next year, which would cause the OASI trust fund to become insolvent sooner.

The bottom line here is that lawmakers are looking into problem, but this is where it currently stands. In addition, Social Security was never intended to be your entire retirement income; therefore, even if you end up getting 100% of what you are "owed" based on what you paid in, it is never a bad idea to start saving for retirement regardless of how old you are. Meanwhile, get in touch with your representatives in Congress and tell them that they need to make Social Security a priority before it is too late.

QUESTION: A lot of politicians have been talking about either eliminating or increasing the maximum taxable earnings for Social Security in order to keep Social Security solvent. Increasing taxes in theory seems to make sense, but how does that really help if Social Security will just end up paying more benefits?

ANSWER: First, the taxable maximum (or "tax max") is the maximum amount of annual earnings subject to Social Security taxes. Under current law, Social Security benefit calculations are based on only the amount that was taxed and not on earnings above that

You are right that many politicians are discussing the different options to fix the tax max and the possibility of eliminating or increasing it (in 2015, the tax max is $118,500). However, there are a lot of details of these proposals that are being left out and need to be examined. For example, some want to change the tax max but not pay any extra benefits based on the extra taxes paid. Other proposals include different formulas for calculating benefits above the current tax max amount, resulting in a lower proportional benefit payment. This is a simplified explanation, but in general, people should be aware that it is not as simple as just eliminating or increasing the tax max. That is also why these proposals include other provisions to compliment the tax provision in order to help the solvency of the trust funds.

Fulton Railroaders The continued their Madisonville, Wednesday evening, record.

Fulton hosted the Dubois County Bombers Thursday evening after losing their first game of the season to Owensboro, and placing a second win over the Miners. The Railroaders entered in to the Jun. 4 contest with a 4 - 1record—having already defeated the Bombers in the previous week-but found themselves struggling offensively against a team that refused to commit any errors for the majority of the competition.

Charlie Hecht (#17) was

Fulton's first inning offensive

The game remained gridlocked as Hecht battled against Ryan Dills of Dubois County, the visiting starting pitcher who threw seven strikeouts in five innings while allowing but three hits during his time on the mound.

Hecht struckout the first Bomber in the top of the second and forced back-to-back ground outs to Fulton's first baseman, Uhrich. The Railroaders responded with two struckout batters and a groundout tap errors allowed the contest to shift in to the Bombers' favor in the top of the fifth. Hecht struckout the first Bomber, and the next batter connected for a single that breezed between second and third. Reece made a catch to put two outs on the single to give the Bombers two runners on base. Devyn Newberry of Dubois County followed with what should have been a groundout hit to close the drive, but a dropped catch by Fulton's first baseman gave up the single and an RBI. The following Bomber also should have grounded out, but another Railroader error allowed for another single on error for the Bombers' second run of the game. The drive finally ended with Elliott making a catch near third.

The 0 - 2 score in the Bombers' favor held going in to the ninth, at which point some pitching changes allowed both teams to attempt a final effort at placing some runs.

Dubois County began the ninth against Fulton's Logan Parrett (#14), who began his time on the mound in the eighth inning by striking out three of four Bomber batters. Parrett hit the first batter of the ninth, who was then thrown out on his way to second via a fielder's choice single. Another Bomber hit put two runners on base, and then a triple from a Railroader fielding error allowed both runners to score to give Dubois County a four-run lead.

Mound duty was swapped to Kyle Ward (#6) at this point, and he promptly struckout the first Bomber he faced. Ward then allowed an RBI-producing single to make the score 0 - 5for the Bombers, but the Dubois player who placed the hit was thrown out when trying to steal second.

The Railroaders, who had not posted a single run in eight innings of action, faced a 0-5score going in to the bottom of the ninth.

Greenwood began the order by grounding out, and he was followed by a single from Carlos Williams (#7) on a Bomber error. Tyler Hilton (#12)—a University of Tennessee at Martin player—cracked a board with one runner on first, double to give Fulton runners and then Mark Giesler pelted a on second and third. Baldwin then rose to the challenge by securing a single for two RBIs to make the score 2 - 5 with one out on the board.

A single from Reece over third base gave Fulton two more runners on base, and both Baldwin and Reece went on to steal their way to third and second, which ultimately led to Baldwin scoring off of a single from Moore.

The Bombers' swapped pitchers one last time in an effort to not lose a game after having a five-run lead, but the crowd was stunned when Uhrich popped a single on the first throw from this new pitcher that allowed Reece to score, making the score 4 - 5with one out on the board, and two runners on the corners.

Lucas Eliason (#1) stepped up to the plate and struckout to put two outs on the board, and then Conner connected for a hit, but the ball was quickly fielded by the Bomber infield and the game ended with a final score of 4 - 5 in Dubois' favor.

Uhrich had the best game offensively for Fulton. The first baseman recorded four hits on five trips and one RBI. Hecht threw six strikeouts in seven innings and allowed no earned runs. What ultimately cost Fulton this home game were the three fielding errors, all of which resulted in Bomber runs.

The Railroaders will continue their season with games on the road Jun. 9, 10, and 11 Madisonville, Dubois County, and Hopkinsville respectively. Fulton will then host Owensboro, Madisonville, and Dubois County Jun. 13, 14, and 15 for a series of weekend home games.

Railroaders' second wind not enough against Bombers

2015 OVL season this past week with games against Owensboro, Dubois County, and Hopkinsville. The Railroaders fended off the Miners in a home game but dropped the other three contests for the week, thereby lowering their record to 4 - 3 after starting the season with a 3 - 0 a powerful presence on the mound for Fulton Thursday. The Georgia College and State University pitcher started and threw seven innings for the Railroaders, during which he gave up four hits and no earned runs. The top of the first came and went with Hecht striking out one Bomber, and forcing ground outs to Drew Greenwood (#13) at short stop, and to Kyle Uhrich (#21) at first.

performance was only slightly better than Dubois' as the Railroaders placed but one hit, a double from Clay Reece (#2), who played in the outfield for Fulton Thursday evening.

from Clayton Conner (#25).

Dubois County secured a lone hit in the third, a single in to centerfield, while Hecht again struckout one batter and forced two more groundouts.

The Railroaders built some offensive momentum in the bottom of the third via the bottom of their lineup. Colton Aldridge (#11) connected for a single in to centerfield, and then John Anderson (#19) batted Aldridge forward with a sacrifice bunt; unfortunately, Baldwin (#3)—who was having an off night at the plate-struckout, and the following Railroader grounded out to close the third with both teams still scoreless.

Railroader fielding saved the day in the top of the fourth. The Bombers' Nick Gobert cracked a linedrive near third base that would have been a solid single or double had Jacob Elliott (#8) not made a leaping catch. The order closed with Anderson catching a foul ball.

Fulton again made a solid attempt at scoring in the fourth. Kipp Moore (#15) led off by being walked, and then Uhrich pelted a single. The next batter grounded out, and he was followed by a groundout hit from Conner that fed a double play to close the fourth.

Fulton Co. Genealogical Society to meet June 18

Fulton County Genealogical Society will meet on June 18, at 11:15 at the Keg Restaurant in Fulton.

A buffet will be served. The cost is $9.00 per person, that includes tax and a dollar tip for the waitress. It will make it much easier on the Treasurer if you pay by check. Last month's buffet was very delicious. Please call Joan at [731-479-9726] or email [jliving11@ yahoo.com] by June 16th Tuesday to let her know if you are going to eat the buffet.

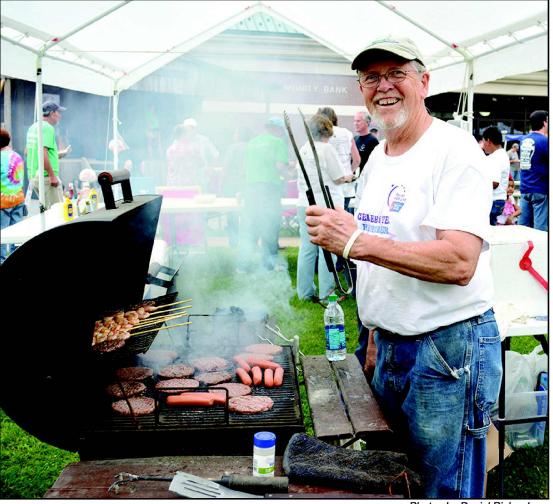

Our speaker will be Emily Adkin who writes for the Hometown Magazine. Emily is calling her topic "Tombstone Tales: How cemeteries can help in family history research." Mrs. Adkins says that she has gotten significant clues from tombstone inscriptions and a few laughs from them as well.

Visitors are welcome. Bring a
